FCC 1: BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

Title: High Energy Prices

Date: Week of September 30th

Info: X-Cel Energy is projecting an increase to heat your home this winter if you're using natural gas. A right now that projection is between 15 and 30 percent more than last year. But that could change for a couple of reasons. Mike Hero community manager for excel says supply demand and hurricanes could change the cost of natural gas.

Temperatures this winter will also play a role as far as what you'll actually pay.

Title: Energy Audits

Date: Week of September 26, 2005

The Federal government estimates that the recent tragedies in the Gulf of Mexico will drive this winter's energy costs through the roof. The cost of heating a house could be more than 77-percent higher than last year. That's an average of about 600 dollars.

News 19's Jason Fechner looked into one way to keep heat in your home... and bring down the bill. Home inspections are a good way to prepare for high heating costs. You can have an inspection through Wisconsin's focus on energy program. It takes about two hours. The initial consultation is free. And homeowners can find out more by calling the focus on energy headquarters in Madison, Wisconsin at 800-762-7077.

Title: Firewood Business

Date: Week of July 11, 2005

The temperature says hot but this winter heating costs could make you hot under the collar. As a result this summer firewood dealers are chopping faster to keep up with the demand. One Wisconsin dealer says sales are up about 50 percent this year. He says his customers want a backup plan as home heating costs rise.

Title: Northwest Safety

Date: Week of August 8th, 2005

Federal agencies are now investigating safety allegations at Northwest Airlines. You'll remember union mechanics went on strike there two weeks ago. A maintenance inspector for the Federal Aviation Administration... who is now re-assigned to a desk job... raised the allegations. U.S. Senator Mark Dayton sent a letter to the FAA administrator, seeking assurance that a thorough investigation will be conducted. Spokespeople for both the U-S Department of Transportation and the FAA say both agencies are conducting investigations. Northwest is using licensed replacement mechanics to keep the airline operating.

Title: Gas Price Gouging

Date: Week of August 22, 2005

Gas stations can charge whatever they want for gasoline...but there are rules designed to protect consumers from gas price gouging. In the aftermath of hurricane Katrina gas prices jumped 20...30... even fifty cents a gallon. A Wisconsin state law doesn't allow gas stations to change prices more than once in a 24-hour period. But some gas stations may be ignoring that rule. 260 complaints have been made against gas stations, across Wisconsin...including La Crosse. It's not known yet which stations allegedly violated the law. If a gas station is caught breaking this law...they're fined 2-hundred dollars and could have to pay restitution to their customers.

FCC 2: Government and Politics

Title: Keg Registration

Date: Week of July 1, 2005

Info: Would putting a limit on the sales of kegs of beer help reduce binge drinking? La Crosse is considering a proposal to limit the number of beer kegs a customer could buy at one time. Madison is considering a similar proposal. It would limit the number of beer kegs sold in residential areas to two at a time. The proposal is an effort to crack down on events such as the Mifflin street block party and the Halloween bash on State street. There is no law in La Crosse limiting the number of beer kegs sold... but it is one of the proposals of the alcohol task force. The La Crosse city council will consider the ordinance this fall. The city tavern league is opposed to the idea.

Title: Soldiers Die in Iraq

Date: Week of August 10, 2005

Info: Four American Soldiers have been killed North of Baghdad. Two are from Wisconsin. The U-S Command says insurgents attacked them Tuesday night while they were on patrol in a town 155 miles north of the Iraq Capital. Six others were wounded. The military says all the soldiers were with Task Force Liberty.

Title: Soldiers Memorial

Date: Week of September 29, 2005

Info: Hundreds of people gathered yesterday to lay to rest a Wisconsin soldier killed in Iraq. The funeral for 20-yr-old Michael Wendling was held in Mayville. Wendling was killed along with another Wisconsin National Guard member, 25-yr-old Sergeant Andrew Wallace by a roadside bomb almost two weeks ago. Wendling was honored with a 21 gun salute. The funeral for Wallace will be this morning in Ripon.

Title: Sex Offender Registry

Date: Week of September 9, 2005

Info: There are about 18-thousand listed sex offenders in Wisconsin. Yesterday Governor Doyle announced that a team of retired detectives would try and hunt down more than 13-hundred sex offenders whose whereabouts have been lost. Satellite monitoring will be used to track 200 of the most dangerous child predators. There are hundreds of convicted sex offenders in Wisconsin that have never registered with the state as required under their sentences.

Title: Katrina

Date: Week of August ,m 2005

Info: Hurricane Katrina is one of the worst natural disasters in the United States. Katrina packed winds upwards of 175 miles an hour. If there were such a thing as a category six Katrina would likely qualify. This is the storm so many have feared for so long. It is a storm which devastated New Orleans, a city below sea level... surrounded by water. The storm has moved on, but cleaning up the devastation will take many months if not years. At least 80 people are dead and that toll may rise because so many houses are still underwater...and there may be more victims inside Congress passed a nearly 52-billion-dollar budget bill for relief efforts in the gulf coast. Efforts have already spent the previous 10 billion dollars approved. The president also signed the bill tonight. Vice president Cheney saw for himself the damage done by hurricane Katrina today. The visit was part of a one-day tour that took him through the affected areas of Mississippi and Louisiana. Meanwhile Hotels along the Gulf Coast are trying to make the transition from putting up hurricane evacuees to welcoming their normal business travelers.

At least one chain is asking some evacuees to clear out to make room for people with reservations. Hilton Hotels says they were told when they checked in that room availability would dictate how long they could stay. Evacuees in Louisiana have the law on their side. An executive order signed last month bans hotels from kicking out any evacuees who guarantee payment. But there's no such protection in Mississippi. An evacuee from Louisiana says staff at a Hampton Inn in Brookhaven told her they'd call the police if she didn't pick up her belongings. But many hotels are letting evacuees stay.

Title: Barges on River

Date: Week of September 13, 2005

Info: Another complication from Katrina is the threat to barge traffic on the Mississippi river. Barges are backed up on the river near Saint Louis. Officials have closed the river to traffic south of Missouri, all the way to New Orleans. The coast guard hopes to re-open the river in the next few days. Locally barge traffic on the upper Mississippi hasn't been affected... at least for now.

Title: Tornado Hits Viola

Date: Week of August 18, 2005

Info: A record number of tornados ripped through Wisconsin on august 18th. Including Viola Wisconsin. One of those tornados devastated the village of Viola destroying nine homes, and damaging more than one hundred The federal government refuses to offer aid. Governor Doyle and Congressman Ron Kind have both pledged to appeal the federal government's decision. Luckily there are no deaths.

FCC 4: EDUCATION

Title: Real Forest Gump

Date: Week of September 22, 2005

Info: The number of overweight and obese children is now higher than ever before. So what can be done to help stop and hopefully reverse the trend? Along with the La Crosse Tribune, News 19 is kicking-off our latest Healthy Living together series called kids step up. A motivational speaker got people moving tonight at Logan high school in La Crosse. Robert Sweetgall talked about how to get children and adults for that matter committed to a healthier lifestyle. Robert Sweetgall knows a little something about getting active... he has walked across America seven times. But Sweetgall says just 15 to 20 minutes of extra activity a day will impact your health. Earlier today Sweetgall got area kids pumped up about healthier lifestyles. During the next eight weeks... more than four-hundred fourth graders... from La Crosse to La Crescent... will use pedometers... to track their activity. Their teachers will have lessons on how to live a healthy lifestyle and incorporate physical activity and healthy eating into the school day.

Title: Jim Fowler

Date: Week of September 29, 2005

Info: Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom host Jim Fowler talks to local kids about the importance of the natural world. Today Fowler and his friends will be visiting some elementary schools to talk to students about what they can do to protect the natural environment and the animals in it. He'll also be making a stop at Gundersen-Lutheran to visit with some patients and their families. Saturday everyone can come to a family night at the La Crescent High School.

Title: Move In Day

Date: Week of September 22, 2005

Info: College move in day is one filled with mixed emotions for parents of freshmen. It's also filled with lifting...and pulling and dragging as they help their kids move into the dorms. At UW Lacrosse, cars lined streets before 8 am giving most freshmen and their families a full day to unload. Many parents were surprised by crews of upper classmen... waiting to quickly unload and deliver the freshmen's' gear to their dorms. It was there that many students realized they might have over packed. Upperclassmen who moved in today say they learned from last year's mistakes and brought fewer clothes and supplies to start the year. The official first day of school is Tuesday. The fall enrollment figure is about 87 hundred students .

FCC 5 Public Health

Title: New Medical Technology

Date: Week of July 10, 2005

Info: Diagnosing medical problems without surgery to show exactly what's happening inside a patient's body can be difficult. Now, new technology is giving doctors their most detailed look without surgery - allowing them to plan treatments more easily and give patients more peace of mind. The 64-slice CT tomography system is considered the latest generation of CT scanners. It provides more detailed information for doctors to use by providing a 3-dimensional computer model of the body, including moving organs like the heart. Doctors say they can better plan surgical procedures or treatments with the 3-dimensional model system than with the 2-dimensional models they previously used. And the exam only takes seconds to perform, meaning patients have to lie still and hold their breaths for less time than with other CT scans. This 3-dimensional technology is providing doctors with the information they need in greater detail than ever before leading to improved diagnosis and better patient care.

Title: Flu Season

Date: Week of September 30, 2005

Title: Hixon Antiques

Date: Week of August 8, 2005

Info: An antique fair in La Crosse played host to history... and some supernatural spirits. the Hixon house hosted an antique art and collectibles fair this weekend. The event was a good way to raise funds for the historical society and also give tour-goers a chance to take a trip back to the Hixon house of the past. But touring the house and seeing the antiques weren't the only way for visitors to step back in time. All of the money raised at this year's fair directly benefits the historical society. Those funds will continue to be used for the Hixon house's preservation and other historical sites through the city.

Title: LCC

Date: Week of July 4, 2005

Info: over the last 25-years... the l-c-c has raised more than 400-thousand dollars for the children of Chileda. Several sponsors make that happen. One is "Thrivent financial for Lutherans" Thrivent will match one dollar for every 2-dollars chileda raises in pledges. Thrivent will add 1-dollar up to a total of 17-thousand 2-hundred dollars. So if the L-C-C raises 34-thousand 4-hundred dollars Thrivent will tack on an additional 17-thousand 2-hundred dollars.

Title: Fireworks

Date: Week of August 4, 2005

Info: Some local kids spend their Sunday thinking about something other than the start of school. La Crosse's Skyrockers team spent the day teaching kids how to make fireworks... and how to use them safely. The Skyrockers have been a La Crosse tradition since 19-29. They are now the oldest not-for-profit fireworks team in the country, and with a little training they'd like to keep it that way. Spokesperson Doug Seymour says the Organization really depends upon volunteers and reaching out to kids is a good way to recruit future helpers. The kids, ages eight to 18 spent the day making small, self-propelled fireworks. Most will continue to work with the adults through the big new years and Fourth of July shows next year.

Title: Bass Fishing

Date: Week of August 11, 2005

Info: It's a hot time for bass on the upper Mississippi river backwaters. That's where Dave Carlson goes for one of fishing's ultimate surprises on this week's northland adventures. The surprises is catching Bass where you least expect.

FCC 7: CHILDREN'S ISSUES

Title: Children's Miracle Network Broadcast

Date: Week of June 5, 2005

Info: Once again News 19 broadcast the Children's Miracle Network Celebration. The 10-ten hour broadcast helps raise money for children and their families who have serious medical needs. This year marked the 20th anniversary of the C-M-N celebration. The telethon is a joint effort between w-x-o-w 19 and Gundersen Lutheran. The goal of the 10-ten hour broadcast is to encourage people to call in with donations. Once again the Community responded. In fact CMN collected a record amount. All the money raised stays in the area to help local kids with special medical needs. The money is used for things like special medical equipment that health insurance does not cover, or for meal tickets, gas money or special community health needs. This year's grand total topped 715-thousand dollars! The exact amount was $715,746.

Title: Aspergers 10

Date: Week of August 10, 2005

Info: Summer is winding down; college campuses are starting to fill back up. One La Crosse college student didn't take the summer off. Nicole Baumgartner is a senior at Viterbo University. Majoring in English. She just finished an internship at Chileda institute in La Crosse. Chileda works with children who have developmental disabilities and autism. Something Nicole knows a little about. The cause of Asperger's syndrome is still up for debate. Evidence suggests A-S can be caused by a variety of physical factors... all of which affect brain development.. it's not due to emotional deprivation early in childhood. A-S is usually not diagnosed until a child is at least 3 year old. When social problems become apparent. As for treatment many with Asperger's can go through communication and social skills training. Medication is generally avoided... unless needed to treat specific symptoms, like depression.

Title: LCC

Date: Week of July 4, 2005

Info: Riverfest always coincides with the annual La Crosse Chileda Classic. You still have time to sign up. The run-walk is in downtown La Crosse. There's a five and a ten-k course. Chileda is a residential treatment facility for kids who face developmental and physical challenges like autism and CP. Wxow 19 is a proud sponsor of the L.C.C.

Title: Thrivent Helps Kids

Date: Week of July 14, 2005

Info: A local business is making good on a promise. Thrivent financial made a deal with the Chileda Institute. The business would donate 50-cents for every dollar raised for the L.C.C. up to 17-thousand 2-hundred dollars. Today Thrivent held up their part of the deal and presented Chileda with a check. The Chileda Classic raised more than 56-thousand dollars. The money will make a difference in the lives of children with autism.

DARK SIDE OF FAME

Popularity and recognition can be a great benefit for a young ambitious local news anchor. But fame can also be dangerous. Ten years ago, Huisentruit disappeared in a case that set off one of the largest manhunts in Iowa history. Police suspect she was abducted, and they say the roots of that abduction may lie in her overwhelming ambition, her dream to be on television. "20/20" reported on the case in 2000, and is revisiting it on the 10th anniversary of her disappearance.
